

Questions? We've Got Answers.

1 Who pays for home health care services?

After your referral, we'll work with you to determine the best way to pay for your home health including Medicare Part A & B, private insurance or individual payment plan.

2 Who can refer me to HealthWatch Professionals for home health care?

Your physician, social worker or discharge planner in a medical facility typically sets up a referral. However, family or friends can also make referrals.

3 What is a home health program?

A home health program is an individualized plan for you, as prescribed by your physician, to enhance your quality of life and return you to the best health possible.

4 What are the advantages?

If you've been prescribed home health care after you leave a medical facility, the goal is to regain your health and quality of life. There's no better place to complete your program than in the comfort of your own home.
